++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Morning rain clearing later to warm sunshine. Cold overnight.

Today:
Rather cloudy and damp during the morning, with spells of rain and drizzle making gradual progress southeast. Gradually becoming brighter from the northwest into the afternoon, with most seeing some sunshine. Mild in the west, breezier in the east. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Fine with clear spells into the evening, allowing temperatures to fall away and bringing a risk of slight frost. The cold feel will be accentuated by the brisk northerly wind. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Wednesday:
Probably fine throughout, although cooler than recent days, especially to start. Brightest in the west with some fair weather cloud, but periodically rather cloudy in the east. Northerly winds easing. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Mainly settled with some brighter spells, but overall becoming cloudier and breezier through this period, with a little rain possible. Mostly mild by day, but with slight overnight frosts.
